

Beehives & Honey Production/ Degustation

Tzermiado Village lies in the farming community of the Lasithi Plateau 50 km from Agios Nikolaos in the east of Crete. The visit will take place at the home production of Dimitris Siganos family, which goes back to his ancestors. Guests will visit the domesticated beehives, followed by the tour of the production process along with extraction of the honey from the honeycomb. After the tour a degustation of “rakomelo” will take place, the local “raki” drink served either warm or cold with honey, as well as a degustation of the varieties of honey. Some appetizers will be offered to accompany the “rakomelo” and honey, before returning to the hotel.
